Dear Jeff,

I just wanted to write and let you know how pleased everyone at Port Europe is with the e-brochure which Odyssey UK produced for us.

It is saving us a substantial amount of money in print and delivery costs, providing an excellent return on investment. We are also finding that it gives us a great "edge" on our competition, reinforcing the innovate image of our company.

We now include a link to the e-brochure on the signature of all our corporate e-mails to give potential clients instant access to details about Port Europe's product range in a dynamic, interactive format.

Thank you for introducing us to such a powerful marketing tool. We are now devising further publications which we will ask you to produce for us in this format in the near future.

Yours sincerely,
